Kentucky Supreme Court Says All Evictions Allowed as of August 1st as Governor Beshear Announces New Measures to Try and Bring Down Spread of COVID-19

The Kentucky Supreme Court in Administrative Order 2020-56 has removed the moratorium on evictions for non-payment of rent which will lead to over 20,000 eviction filings in Jefferson County. This was done just as Governor Beshear is announcing new stricter measures to bring down the COVID-19 infection rate.

The Kentucky Supreme Court has thrown out the idea of protecting children - whether it is allowing the closure of Family Courts to the opening up of massive evictions of families. Write Chief Justice John Minton at courtstipline@kycourts.net to express your disgust with his decision to endanger children.

Of course now we have the answer to whether the courts are racist and sexist as in Jefferson County the areas that have the greatest numbers of evictions filed are in segregated black neighborhoods and in all neighborhoods with large percentages of female-headed households with children.

Support the Land Development Code Reform for Equity

by Cathy Hinko

MHC Executive Director

There is a strong effort, through the Metro Council Committee on Equity and Inclusion, and with the groundwork of the Louisville Metro Department of Planning and Design, to REFORM the current Land Development Code (LDC). The LDC is decades old and rooted in segregation and exclusion. While "tweaks" have occurred, its original racial animus is very alive.

HECK, WHY DO YOU THINK WE REMAIN SO SEGREGATED? The LDC is one of the main reasons, along with redlining on loans, real estate practices, and limitations on land use through insidious deed restrictions.

There can be all kinds of talk of equity, but the LDC says, plot by plot, WHO is allowed to live in an area, not just the use of the land. The LDC should say that in residential areas there should not be a hog farm or a concrete factory, but our LDC goes further to carefully rule on exactly which people are allowed- only the "right kind" can move into the area.

It is time for reform of the LDC for equity and inclusion. You can help make that happen. The Committee and all of Metro Council need to charge the Planning Commission to start this process.

STEP 1 - contact your Councilmember and ask them to instruct the Planning Commission to begin this reform process.

STEP 2 - keep up with what is happening at the Planning Commission level by following MHC and the Department of Planning and Design.

STEP 3 - review the "diagnosis" of the inequities so you can be familiar with them. Here is the link to that document:
Here is more information about this effort. MHC will arrange a webinar on this - the terms used can be easily explained.

First of all THANK YOU to all who participated in the process of updating our Comprehensive Plan so that the 20 year plan on the built environment includes principles of equity and inclusion. It specifically includes them for housing. Imagine! This had never been in prior plans. The Comprehensive Plan gives power to get the reform done, so those long winter evenings at meetings had a big payoff.

Taking up the new charge, the Department of Planning and Design hired a company to do an analysis-or a "diagnosis" of the current LDC, so we could focus the reform effort. That is the link above.

The eight issues identified are (and do not be put off by these terms, they are explained more in the document) :

- The LDC is overly complex because of a two-tiered system- zoning AND form
- Land Use Tables are long and complex and can be consolidated with clear definitions
- Standards limit delivery of housing choices- densities are too low and lot sizes too big
- Intended/desired form is not clear- too hazy on what is supposed to happen
- The LDC makes it too easy to opt out of the standards
- Parking is a barrier to development in traditional places
- Too much land is zoned single-family in county- 75% of Jefferson County is restricted to single-family residential making it expensive
- The Comprehensive Plan does not identify where diverse housing should be prioritized

We need to reform the LDC to be intentional in being inclusive.

Upcoming MHC Webinar:
Rent Assistance Programs Available in Louisville: What They Are, How They Work, and How to Access Them as a Landlord or Tenant

The Metropolitan Housing Coalition (MHC) is hosting a FREE remote webinar session (via Zoom) on Thursday, July 30th at 5PM entitled "Rent Assistance Programs Available in Louisville: What They Are, How They Work, and How to Access Them as a Landlord or Tenant".

Registration Link: https://zoom.us/webinar/register/1415955319900/WN_4JZsu3R2QkaLVb2x2X8MSg

Description:
You are invited to the free remote session on all the major rent assistance programs available. Learn what they are, what they do, can they be combined, what are the benefits and limitations, and how to access them. Find out the funding source. Find out how much money and the number of months of assistance.

Some programs are accessed by landlords, some are accessed by tenants - find out how to get assistance in rent. Landlords will understand what their commitment is in exchange for the assistance.
Register for this free event and you will be sent the link to join the program.

The threat of eviction is something that persistently looms over all renters. But for Black renters, that threat is not only more pronounced but is also more likely to become a reality than for white people and non-Black people of color.

Join us for this discussion about the racialization of evictions in Louisville.
